AMBER PEBBLES ELECTED CHAIR OF THE PRINCE WILLIAM REGIONAL CHAMBER OF COMMERCE CONSTRUCTION AND UTILITIES BUSINESS COUNCIL

Woodbridge, VA October 9, 2008

Amber Peebles, President of Athena Construction Group, was elected Chair of the Construction and Utilities Business Council for the Prince William Regional Chamber of Commerce. "It truly is a privilege to serve on the Board of the PWRCC. I feel strongly that Prince William County is ideally situated between major BRAC expansion initiatives with Ft. Lee and Washington DC. The projected growth in the region is substantial. I look forward to supporting the Chamber and its Chairman, Jim DiModica, in promoting business in the Prince William Region" commented Ms. Peebles.

"Amber was carefully selected for her leadership role in taking the Construction & Utilities Business Council to a new level of activities and prominence in the business community for several reasons: she has a remarkable understanding of all facets of the construction business, real clarity in envisioning and articulating her business goals and a burning intensity in pursuit of entrepreneurial success. In the few short months since she has taken charge, she has amply demonstrated that she is absolutely the right person for this challenging new role" said Pete White, Manger of Business Growth and Development for the PWRCC.

The Construction and Utilities Business Council represents the interests of member businesses involved in the construction and utilities industries, including those providing residential and commercial construction, installation of wiring, plumbing and other construction related services. Some Council members seek to fulfill local, state, and/or federal government construction requirements, including programs required to support the movement of DoD/federal agencies and organizations to military bases in the area pursuant to the Base Realignment and Closure (BRAC) relocations.

Athena Construction Group is headquartered in Dumfries, VA with a principal office in Lynchburg, VA. Athena Construction group specializes in residential, light commercial and government contracting.
